DETAILED ACTION

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Maruko (USPN 6071201) in view of Berman, deceased et al (USPN 3784209) as set forth in the Office action mailed 6/3/04.

3. Applicant's arguments filed 10/29/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that there is no motivation to combine Maruko and Berman because they teach golf balls of different compositions. This argument is misplaced because both Maruko and Berman teach an inner core made from the same materials. See col 3, lns 4-15 of Maruko and col 2, lns 50-57 of Berman. Since both Maruko and Berman teach an inner core of the same material, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use an unvulcanized core as taught by Berman in the process of Maruko in order to form a golf ball having a good bond between layers.

Applicant also argues that Maruko does not teach an unvulcanized center containing a zinc salt of an unsaturated carboxylic acid and a core outer layer, which does not contain a zinc salt of an unsaturated carboxylic acid as found in instant claim

1. This argument is misplaced because instant claim 1 does not recite an unvulcanized center containing a zinc salt of an unsaturated carboxylic acid.

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
